|| Political Economics || Snam Woos Investors With Net-Zero Claims While Growing Its Spending on Fossil Gas Infrastructure ||

|| Tuesday: March 16: 2021 || α. Even, as Snam seeks to attract funding from sustainability-led lenders, Europe's largest gas pipeline, it continues to devote the vast majority of planned capital spending to unabated fossil gas infrastructure, according to a Report from the Institute for Energy Economics and Financial Analysis:IEEFA. The largest gas transmissions operator in Europe far from net-zero in 2040 Snam, the Milan-based gas transmission system operator, has advocated for a hydrogen economy and rebranded itself with the phrase, 'Energy to inspire the world'.

The Company, however, has allocated just 09% of its spending plan to 'energy transition' over the next four years, while continuing to expand its fossil gas network. At this important juncture in European energy policy, gas industry groups, including, Snam, are lobbying the EU to create binding EU targets around renewable gas deployment, as well as, including, fossil gas as a transition fuel in the EU's sustainable taxonomy, as the bloc looks to rapidly decarbonise.

"I hate to use the word but, this is classic green-washing." said Mr Arjun Flora, IEEFA Director of Energy Finance Studies for Europe and the Author of the Report. "Snam claims to be targeting net zero, while refusing to acknowledge its largest source of carbon emissions, end-use of the gas it transports.

It is vital that appropriate scrutiny is applied to fossil fuel companies' claims of sustainability. This will prevent further fossil fuel lock-in, minimise stranded asset risk and ensure cost-effective use of public funds."

Snam's plan for achieving net-zero emissions by 2040 suffers from two major weaknesses, according to the Report. The Company reports less than 03% of the roughly 140 million tonnes of carbon dioxide equivalents, that are transported through Snam's network, claiming that it's not responsible for emissions resulting from the final use of the gas.

The company's net-zero plan, also, shows that it still expects fossil gas to account for half of its transported fuel mix in 2040. "Snam's slogans mean nothing unless they're backed up with a coherent, comprehensive plan to transition its network from fossil gas." Mr Flora said.

Snam claims to have received over EUR07 billion from sustainable financing and hopes to increase the amount to, almost, EUR10 billion by 2024. The Report, however, raises questions about Snam's use of proceeds from sustainable financing; it appears that money raised from a climate action bond, for example, can be used as working capital for non-eligible activities.

About IEEFA: The Institute for Energy Economics and Financial Analysis:IEEFA examines issues, related to energy markets, trends and policies. The Institute's mission is to accelerate the transition to a diverse, sustainable and profitable energy economy.

|| Jurisprudence || Afghanistan: Authorities Must Deliver on the Pledge to Protect Activists Amid Surge of Attacks: Amnesty International ||

|| Tuesday: March 16: 2021 || α. With Afghanistan's human rights defenders, facing a renewed surge of threats and attacks, the authorities in the country must urgently deliver on their pledge to establish a functional body, that is dedicated to the protection of human rights defenders at risk, said Amnesty International. More than three months since a Presidential Decree nominally created the Joint Commission for the Protection of Human Rights Defenders, no practical steps have been taken to make it an effective protection mechanism, with a lack of information forth-coming on any plan or strategy to address the escalating threat, faced by members of Afghan civil society.

An already dire situation for Afghanistan's human rights community has significantly worsened over recent months, with no fewer than 11 human rights defenders and media workers killed in targeted attacks between the start of peace negotiations on September 12, 2020 and January 31, 2021, according to figures from the United Nations Assistance Mission in Afghanistan:UNAMA. "The announcement of the Joint Commission was a vital step towards providing human rights defenders across the country with the support and security they so desperately need.

But it's a body, that currently exists in name only. In more than three months, during which we have witnessed a frenzied escalation of killings, attacks and threats against activists, the Commission has made no tangible progress or taken any meaningful action." said Mr Yamini Mishra, Amnesty International's Asia-Pacific Director.

“This delay has already cost lives and there is no sign of the violence abating. The Joint Commission must urgently expedite its work and prioritise the immediate security needs of human rights defenders, investigate all cases of threats, attacks and other forms of intimidation and hold those responsible to account.” he said.

Amnesty International is, also, calling on the Joint Commission to ensure that, where necessary, human rights defenders are provided with adequate protection measures, including, relocation, relief and psychosocial support. According to UNAMA figures, 14 human rights defenders were killed in Afghanistan in 2020. This includes Mohammad Yousuf Rasheed, CEO of Free and Fair Election Forum of Afghanistan, who was shot dead on December 23, 2020 in morning rush-hour traffic in Kabul along with his driver, days after the Joint Commission was established.

The following day, women’s rights activist Freshta Kohistani and her brother were killed in Kapisa province by unknown gunmen, travelling on a motorbike. Days before her death, Kohistani had posted a message online that she had asked the authorities for protection due to the threats she was receiving. According to its mandate, the Joint Commission has been established ‘for the purpose of strengthening human rights advocacy and addressing the national and international concerns of human rights related issues in Afghanistan’.

“To achieve its goals and become worthy of its name, the Joint Commission must be provided with the necessary human and financial resources and be fully supported by both the Afghan government and the international community.” said Mr Yamini Mishra.

On January 19, 2020, in close collaboration with 32 human rights organisations, Amnesty International presented ‘the Afghanistan Human Rights Defenders Protection Strategy’. Intended as a roadmap for the government to adopt an independent, effective and implementable protection mechanism for human rights defenders at risk in the country, the strategy won a public commitment from the Afghan government to establish an effective protection mechanism.

In August 2019, Amnesty International published a briefing, Defenceless defenders: Afghanistan’s human rights community under attack, detailing the threats, harassment, intimidation, attacks and, even, killings, that human rights defenders have faced for their work.

|| United Kingdom || India Will Be the Real Test of Foreign Policy Under New the Security Defence Development and Foreign Policy Strategy ||

Should the University of Southampton Indian Dance Society, making a Dance-Cricketing-Debut, be worried, since there appear to be some or, at least, two, terribly 'unqualified' persons 'impersonating' as dancers! || Tuesday: March 16: 2021 || α. Responding to the UK government's publication today of an Integrated Review of Security, Defence, Development and Foreign Policy, Ms Kate Allen, the Director of Amnesty International UK, said, "China and other serious foreign policy challenges aren't going to go away but, in many ways, the real test of this review will be India."

"Ministers speak out regularly about human rights set-backs in China, Russia, Myanmar or Iran but, say, almost, nothing about India despite a rapidly deteriorating human rights situation." said Ms Allen. "In India, civic space is increasingly restricted, with human rights defenders at real and growing risk amid a government-fostered climate of intolerance and reprisal."

"Last year, Amnesty India was forced to close its operations after sustained harassment from the authorities. When the Prime Minister visits India next month we'd like to see him speaking plainly, including, publicly, about the need for Narendra Modi's government to halt the alarming decline in respect for human rights in India." said Ms Allen.

"Concepts like 'open societies' are all well and good but, the UK needs to go beyond fine phrases and take a principled stand against the actions of world leaders like Prime Minister Modi.

Otherwise, it risks trading away its influence or acting in a way #, which lends international cover for continued human rights abuses.” she said.

|| United Kingdom || Dominic Raab Sacrifices Human Rights For Trade Deals: Amnesty International UK ||

|| Tuesday: March 16: 2021 || α. Responding to an audio recording of the UK Foreign Secretary, Mr Dominic Raab, telling FCDO staff that, if, the UK ‘restricts trade to countries with ECHR-level standards of human rights, we’re not going to do many trade deals with the growth markets of the future’, Ms Kate Allen, the Director of Amnesty International UK, said, “These comments will send a chill down the spine of embattled human rights activists right across the globe.

This apparent willingness to sacrifice human rights at the altar of trade is shocking but, sadly, unsurprising. It fits a depressing pattern on human rights from this Government. Trade is obviously important to all nations but, the Foreign Secretary shouldn’t be throwing human right defenders to the wolves like this. So-called ‘growth markets’, countries like India, Indonesia or Brazil, are, often, precisely places where human rights protections are fragile and under threat.”

“And in some countries, such as, Myanmar, the army has control of economic activity, which directly funds its military operations, including, those implicated in human rights abuses.

Once again, we’d urge Dominic Raab and other ministers to remember that any trade, that arises from or contributes to human rights violations can never be truly sustainable. Companies will rightly worry about their obligations to avoid involvement in human rights abuse, investors will take fright and the whole edifice will come tumbling down.” Ms Allen said.

“Rather than this false either-or over trade versus human rights, there needs to be a more intelligent policy, that properly integrates them. Trade deals should be subject to proper human rights impact assessments before they’re entered to.

Human rights experts ought to, routinely, accompany trade delegations and all companies should be required to undertake proper human rights diligence as part of any overseas business venture.” she said.

|| United Kingdom || The Policing Bill Will Normalise Dangerous Over-Policing' of Peaceful Protest: Amnesty International UK ||

|| Tuesday: March 16: 2021 || ႁ. Amnesty International UK has launched an Urgent Campaign to halt Police, Crime, Sentencing and Courts Bill, going through the Parliament now. The Agency is urging people across the UK to write to the Prime Minister, calling on him to, urgently, halt the rushed passage of the controversial Police, Crime, Sentencing and Courts Bill, which is receiving its second reading in the House of Commons today.

Ms Kate Allen, the Director of Amnesty International UK, said, "The dangerous over-policing of Saturday's demonstration should sound an alarm bell right across the country. This bill is liable to make the scenes we saw at Clapham Common the new normal; it's a deeply worrying prospect. The Bill itself is so broad in scope that it is a threat to everybody. Threatening the rights to peaceful protest is only one alarming area of new policing powers, others relate to stop and search or restricting the rights to roam will only further entrench racism and discrimination within the criminal justice system." she said.

"Temporary restrictions on our civil liberties during a time of pandemic are one thing but, a law, that permanently restricts the right to peaceful protest is totally unacceptable. As the country, hopefully, begins the long recovery from coronavirus, we mustn't let restrictions on our basic right to protest remain a lingering symptom of this difficult time." Ms Allen said.

People can write to the Prime Minister asking him to halt the bill at www.amnesty.org.uk/righttoprotest

There can not be any sustainability until and unless we take the view that sustainability comes as philosophical, political philosophical, political economical, ethical, moral, sociological, educational, jurisprudential, socio-cultural and ecological and humanical spiritual so that we are able to create a sustainable 'architecture' of existence in a clean, green, circular and sustainable political economics, that underpins all forms and expressions of sustainability and when such an 'architecture' exists within the Larin Paraske Maxim or Oath: Do No Harm to Anyone or Anything: all things and all living forms must have equitable status in the sphere of all existence or all life on earth, with an emphasis on the Universana. - G: Absolute Right to Guaranteed Social Care
- H: Absolute Right to a Universal Income
- I: Absolute Right to a Job
- J: Absolute Right to Dignified Civic and Human Funeral Paid Through by Universal Income

This Is the Body of Work, by Munayem Mayenin, That Has Brought Into Existence the Philosophy and Vision of Humanics

Dehumanisation of Humanity: Volume One: Published: July: 2007: 978-1-4477-1330-2

Mayenin worked and developed the very critique of capitalism and Marxism while at university in which he had envisioned the world's future in humanics for humanity to reach and achieve liberty and equality for all humanity, which capitalism has continually slaughtered and Marxism failed desperately, even, to understand, let alone, to know or show how to seek and achieve them. Some of these works were published in publications in the early 00s and the volume was published as a book in 2007. There are three other volumes of this planned work, yet to be published.

Humanics The Foundation: Volume One: Published: December 06: 2017: ISBN: 978-0-244-34575-4

This piece of work elaborated the philosophy of humanics and presented the idea of human enterprise and how it works to enable humanity to conduct the human economical endeavours in humanics.

Humanics The Humanicsonomics: Volume Two: Published: June 12: 2018: ISBN: 978-0-244-48334-0

This is the political economics or humanicsonomics of humanics in human enterprise. This volume presents the political economics of humanics and envisioned world's future as two distinct phases: pre-humanical or Kapitalawnomics phase in which capitalism is saved from pseudonomics and brought under the absolute and complete control and power of the rule of law so to make it serve the people at all times and not the rich and through this phase, humanity brings into existence the humanical Building-Block Foundational Human Rights and end capitalism's Poverty Paradigm, that causes all of the high-cruelties, high-brutalities and high-barbarities, that are inflicted on the vast number of humanity on this earth. Further to this, this work advances the system and mechanism of human enterprise and envisioned at the end of the development of Kapitalawnomics human societies will have developed enough to be able and equipped to try and seek to bring into existence humanical societies, that will begin to form a grid of humanical societies into a universal humanical civilisation on earth.

The Humanics Elleesium Declaration 2019: The Humanicsxian Manifesto: Published: April 06: 2019: ISBN: 978-0-244-76474-6

This short piece of work nano-summarised the entire body of Munayem Mayenin's works on humanics. This calls on the working humanity of the world to rise, organise and united under new and humanical political forces, parties and organisations to seek and try to bring about a humanical world movement to lead humanity to equality and liberty.

Humanics The Humanicsovics: Volume Three: To Be Published Later This Year

This volume presents the political philosophy of humanics and the means to deliver that political philosophy by and through humanicsovics, humanical direct form of democracy without party politics whereby each and every individual human being becomes his:her own High Representative and they all run their society's human affairs management together as individuals, working together as scientists and mathematicians without any political parties.

Alphansum Sovereign Necessarius: Published April 14: 2020: ISBN: 978-0-244-58241-8

Although, this large volume is of metaphysical work, it has brought the whole humanical universal view in a harmonious outlook, unifying all expressions, fields, areas and arenas of human existence and in this process this work envisioned the coming into existence the new branches of science, that has already been mentioned.

Laranska The Anatomy of Fear: Novel: Published: January 2009: ISBN: 978-1-4477-1426-2

No Man's Land's Bloom: Play: Published: May 2010: ISBN: 978-1-4477-0903-9

United Colours of Blood: Screenplay: Published: January 2009: ISBN: 978-1-4477-1615-0

Larantia Poetry of Anatophysiophilosophicamonimayareginata: A Magnum of a Planned Volume of 850 Sonnets About All Branches of Medicine: Currently Having Few Hundred Sonnets: First Published: October 14, 2016: ISBN: 978-1-326-28882-2

In his other major bodies of works, that are yet to be published Mayenin has worked on further in elaborating the psychology and social psychology of the zoohumanity, that capitalism and all the dehumanisations it has inflicted on humanity through its enforcement of inequality and the absence of liberty. These as yet unpublished works include: Psychology of Zoohuman, Humanical Jurisprudence, Sociology of Evil, Economics of Squalors: The High-Cruelties High-Brutalities and High-Barbarities of Capitalism, Humanical Moral Science, Social Morality Or Good State, Humanical Civilisation: A Universal Grid of Humanical Societies and Colossus Complexus: Eternally Learning Humanity.

Universe, our home Universana. Dear Reader, we are on the path of humanics, please, tell the world and world humanity that humanics has arrived on earth from ‘the without of human imagination’, learning, questioning and thoughts, gained from the eternal walks of this human soul’s eternal journey on the eternal path of eternal learning, with its humanical metaphysics, humanical philosophy as natural science, humanical psychology, humanical political philosophy, humanical political economics, humanical jurisprudence, humanical sociology, humanical moral science and humanical arealism. For capitalism has created global warming and climate change and wracked the earth with environmental degradations and pollutions in all spheres, where bio-diversity is getting lost at an alarming rate as the earth keeps on being heated up. Humanity is devastated by capitalism’s poverty-paradigm, delivering all its high-cruelties, high-brutalities and high-barbarities. This is why it is paramount that that we speak up and out and try our hardest to inspire faith, hope, determination and resolution among all humanity of this world, women and men, that we shall not just accept this ‘sentence of doom’, that capitalism’s mindless consumerism, infinite greed of infinite profiteering, decadent vogueism and venomous voyeurism, orchestrated by the Distorteddia have brought us and, yet, that we can, we should, we ought, we must keep on trying: ‘to seek to try: to do: to change: to make better the human condition’ and we do so as one humanity, as women and men, working together as one, in unison with the same aim, same goal, same objective: to get all humanity to liberty, equality, fairness and justice in the rule of law in natural justice, with a purpose and meaning to our existence, where we all humanity, with our all-unity and all-diversity, exist as one humanity naturale on one Mother Earth, in one Sunnara, in one Home Bay Milky Way Galaxy in the one Universana with the humanical foundation of faith: humanity is an infinity unfolding itself, in which, we are all-for-one and one-for-all.
