|| Political Economics || ILO Launches Global Communication Campaign to Promote Inequality Reduction and Social Justice: For There's No Justice Social or Otherwise While Workers Suffer the Injustice of Poverty-Wage and Lack of Employment Rights and Social Protection ||

|| Monday: September 25: 2023 || α. The International Labour Organisation:ILO is to roll out a global communication campaign, This Way to Social Justice, aimed at intensifying efforts to address inequalities in the world of work. On Saturday, September 23, in New York, marking the conclusion of the UN General Assembly high-level week. ILO Director-General, Mr Gilbert F Houngbo, took the stage at the festival, to call for collective action on inequalities and greater social justice worldwide.

Much to needs to be done: very little is attempted and infinitely high is the 'poverty', of all those higher up across the world, of ambition in this regard: there is no justice, social or otherwise, when workers suffer as the world's rich get richer and the poor get poorer and working 'poverty' is the lot of the workers, who feed the world and run the engines of all the progress being made to which they have no stake.

They suffer an all-engulfing poverty not just at work but it stalks them to their homes and their life's private domains and it stalks them across all public domains where nothing put poverty keeps drinking the life out of them. Their health suffers, their children suffer, their education suffers, they pay the highest price of living through the littered ways and bays of poverty; in the quality of public, community and civic services, in health and social care, in pollutions and ill health and lack of whatever is beneficial, such as, clean air, green spaces, cultural amenities and much more.

Poverty is inescapable for how can workers exist in justice when they are the grounds, that are ever-shattered by the ever-going tanks of injustice, of having their rights trampled with, having to accept poverty-wage, having to accept no social protection!

High levels of inequality, aggravated by on-going crises, have a high human and economic cost and threaten already slow progress on the UN's Sustainable Development Goals. ILO data show that four billion people lack social protection, one of the best routes out of inequality.

As many as 453 million people, who would like to work, cannot find a job and 214 million working people live on less than $01.90 a day. This goes to show what a desperate state the world's workers are facing. Four billion out of the whole human race of over seven billion is more than half of the working humanity of this world!

Recognising the unique role of ILO, the world of work and its institutions in addressing these pressing issues, Mr Gilbert F Houngbo said, "While the ILO has been at the forefront of addressing the root causes and consequences of inequalities since its inception, the depth, breadth and repercussions of contemporary inequalities necessitate a comprehensive approach, focusing on both distribution and redistribution mechanisms and policies."

Aligned with ILO's strategy to reduce and prevent inequalities in the world of work, the communication campaign will spotlight crucial policy areas where co-ordinated efforts can pave the way towards fairer, safer, greener and more sustainable societies for all.

These pivotal areas include: decent job creation; universal social protection; education and lifelong learning for all; protection of workers' rights; gender equality and non-discrimination; fair globalisation; just transition to greener economies. ::::ω::::

|| Selfishness Is the Most Definitive Way to, Absolutely, Harm One's Very Own Self, As Well As, Everyone and Everything Else: In Other Words, Selfishness Is Nothing But Absolute, Complete and Comprehensive Absence of Questioning or Thoughtfulness or Consideration, Which Makes Us Think and That, Thus, Enables Us to Reach the Rational Base and Foundation in Life and in Existence: This Means That Selfishness, Actually, Is a Terminal Enemy of the Agency of the Human Mind, Which It Keeps on Tearing Away and Apart by Being Devoid of Questioning and Thoughtfulness Because the Very Agency of the Human Mind Is a 'Structure', Created by the Architectonics of the Architecture of Human Rationality, Which Requires a Human Agency of the Human Mind to Put It to Use by Thinking, Questioning, Consideration, Analysing, Learning and Developing, All of Which Selfishness Terminates: Humanics: Humanics: All-For-One-One-For-All ||
