|| Global Warming and Climate Change || Polar Vortex Was Responsible For Texas Deep Freeze: Carbon Dioxide Levels Keep on Increasing: World Meteorological Organisation ||

|| Wednesday: March 10: 2021 || α. A 'polar vortex' was responsible for the freezing conditions in the US state of Texas last month, according to the UN weather experts, who warn of a worrying increase in global carbon dioxide levels. Ms Clare Nullis, Spokesperson from the World Meteorological Organisation:WMO told journalists during a regular briefing in Geneva that the United States shivered through its coldest February since 1989 because of this natural phenomenon:

“The vortex is area of low pressure and cold air, surrounding either of the poles. It normally keeps cold air in the Arctic, warmer air in the lower latitudes. It weakened this winter so that meant that the cold air came spinning out of the Arctic, warm air by contrast went into parts of the Arctic.” she said. Ms Nullis said that no less than 62 all-time daily cold minimum temperature records were broken in the United States from February 11-16, according to the US National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

February temperatures were well below the 1991-2020 average over much of the Russian Federation and North America but, they were well above average over parts of the Arctic and from northwest Africa to southern Europe and China.

WMO cautioned that, although, February was a relatively cold month, this does not negate the long-term warming trend from climate change. “Cold records are becoming rarer, in contrast to heat temperature records and heatwaves. We expect this trend to continue.” WMO said in a statement.

Globally, February 2021 was close to the 1991-2020 average but, 0.26 degrees Celsius warmer than the 1981-2010 average. This value represents the coldest monthly anomaly for almost six years, according to the European Union’s Copernicus Climate Change Service.

According to the latest data on carbon dioxide concentrations, greenhouse gas concentrations continue to rise. Citing the Mauna Loa station in Hawaii, a benchmark reference station, Ms Nullis noted that average carbon dioxide concentrations in February were 416.75 parts per million, up from 413.4 parts per million in February 2020.

“The fact that we had a relatively cold month does not negate climate change, it does not reverse the long-term trend in rising temperatures due to global warming, climate change. The fact that we’ve got COVID-19, which, temporarily, put a brake on emissions last year does not mean that the need for climate action is diminishing.” Ms Nullis said.

|| Political Economics: Clean Green Circular and Sustainable || Global Framework For Investors to Achieve Net Zero Emissions Alignment Launched: Bringing in 37 Investors Managing $08.5 Trillion in Assets ||

|| Wednesday: March 10: 2021 || ᾱ. The Institutional Investors Group on Climate Change:IIGCC has today launched its 'Net Zero Investment Framework', aimed to enable investors to maximise the contribution they make to decarbonisation of the global economy and tackling climate change. This is achieved by ensuring investment portfolios are aligned with net zero emissions and investors are working in a comprehensive manner to help deliver on the goal of the Paris Agreement to keep global warming below 01.5°C.

The Framework is being published in partnership with other investor groups across North America, Asia and Australasia. It will be rolled out globally as the basis for investors worldwide to implement their net zero strategies. 22 asset owners, with $01.2 trillion in assets, have used publication of the Framework to commit to achieve net zero alignment by 2050 or sooner. The funds in question are drawing on the Framework to deliver these commitments, alongside a number of asset managers, who are already working with clients on net zero alignment. This means 37 investors, managing $08.5 trillion in assets, including, both asset owners and asset managers, are already putting the Framework to practical use.

Some of these investors include Scottish Widows, the Environment Agency Pension Fund, NN Group, New York State Common Retirement Fund, Royal London, National Grid UK Pension Scheme, the Church of England Pensions Board, PKA, Brunel Pension Partnership, Northern LGPS, covering the Greater Manchester, Merseyside and West Yorkshire local government pension scheme funds, PensionDanmark, AP2, Lloyds Banking Group Pensions Trustees Limited, Nest Corporation, Bundespensionskasse AG, AXA Investment Managers, DWS, Aberdeen Standard Investments, PIMCO, Legal and General Investment Management, Jupiter Asset Management, Robeco and Fidelity International.

The majority of these early adopters participated in creation of the Framework and are taking the first steps to defining an industry standard approach to ‘net zero investing’. They are part of a wider group of more than 110 investors representing $33 trillion in assets, involved in its development through the Paris Aligned Investment Initiative, which was launched by IIGCC in 2020 and is now being taken global.

“The global investment community has been called on to play its part in the transition to net zero and it is answering that call.” Said Ms Stephanie Pfeifer, CEO, Institutional Investors Group on Climate Change. “This new swathe of net zero commitments from asset owners demonstrates the growing determination from investors to make important decisions to support a net zero and resilient future.

Commitments are vital but, only, meaningful for the long-term when realised. The net zero transition itself requires an on-going transition from making commitments to delivering impact. The Net Zero Investment Framework, developed with and for investors, is a blueprint for action that will enable and support investors in reaching these goals.”

Many asset managers using the Framework have, also, made net zero commitments through the Net Zero Asset Managers initiative, launched in December, which is, also, delivered by IIGCC and partner investor groups. More investor commitments, such as, those announced today will follow, helping build momentum in the run-up to the United Nations COP26 climate talks, taking place Glasgow in November this year. The Framework is expected to be included in the United Nation’s Race to Zero Campaign, following the completion of an independent assessment process currently underway.

“Investing in a net zero future is key to tackling the climate crisis and unlocking truly sustainable growth. It is actually in the interest of all.” said Ms Patricia Espinosa, the Executive Secretary, United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change. “I encourage others to join investors already showing leadership in using the Net Zero Investment Framework. The race to a net zero future is on and the benefits it offers are critically important.”

“Bringing climate change to the top of the agenda and ensuring that Britain’s pension investments act on managing climate change risk will not only help the UK reach net zero, but ensure a brighter future for all. said UK Minister for Pensions, Mr Guy Opperman. “In the run-up to COP26, more countries than ever are signing up for net zero. This creates huge opportunities but, also, risks, for institutional investors, such as, pension schemes. That is why we’re the first major economy to legislate to require pension schemes to set targets to manage their own climate risks.”

The Framework enables investors to decarbonise investment portfolios and increase investment in climate solutions, in a way, that is consistent with and contributes to a 01.5°C net zero emissions future. Investors do this by developing a ‘net zero investment strategy’, built around five core components of the Framework. These key components are: objectives and targets, strategic asset allocation and asset class alignment, alongside policy advocacy and investor engagement activity and governance.

The ‘net zero investment strategy’ is underpinned by three types of targets, as the main metrics to measure effective action: Portfolio level targets for decarbonisation and investment in climate solutions; Time-bound portfolio coverage targets for companies and assets to meet net zero or aligned criteria and Engagement coverage threshold, >70% emissions in material sectors, ensuring intensive engagement to drive the transition.

“We’re proud to support the launch of the IIGCC Net Zero Commitment as founding signatories.” said Mr Barry O’Dwyer, CEO, Royal London Group. “The IIGCC commitment reflects our view that decarbonising our portfolio alone is not enough. As institutional investors we must influence the companies we invest in to reduce their emissions and invest in the solutions that will help us realise the goals of the Paris Agreement.”

“Becoming net-zero is the best way we can protect our members’ from the investment risks posed by climate change.” said Ms Helen Dean, CEO, Nest. “The evidence is clear; companies adapting for the low carbon economy should have a better chance of long-term success and profitability.”

“The importance of investors contributing to achieve net zero emissions is clear while the economic benefits and investment opportunities of renewables and renovating buildings are becoming even more important.” Said Mr Asoka Wöhrmann, CEO, DWS Group. “Guided by the IIGCC framework, DWS is working to ensure that we select the best net zero emissions investment framework that will deliver a positive outcome for the world and our clients.”

“It is easy to make a long-term commitment to be net zero but, the key question is the path you take to achieve it.” said Mr Adam Matthews, the Chief Responsible Investment Officer, Church of England Pensions Fund. “We have jointly chaired this process to pool the expertise and wisdom of the asset owner and fund manager community to create a framework that is both practical and credible and gets you to net zero. This is a vital part of the investment architecture that was missing. As a fund we are committed to using this Net Zero Investment Framework and are delighted to make the Asset Owner commitment today.”

“Climate shocks, like storms and heatwaves, present a material risk to investments,” said Ms Emma Howard Boyd, the Chair, Environment Agency. “We wanted to help Environment Agency Pension Fund members to be part of the solution so we asked them what they wanted and 92% of those surveyed told us they thought it was important the Fund had a net zero target. We have been using the IIGCC framework to help us set out a roadmap to a net zero target. It has helped us think about how our portfolio needs to evolve. The Net Zero Investment Framework is an excellent tool and we would encourage all investors to use it.”

“Climate change poses significant risks and opportunities for the New York State Common Retirement Fund, the markets and the economy as a whole.” said Mr Thomas P DiNapoli, the Sole Fiduciary of the New York State Common Retirement Fund. “At the same time, it is becoming clear that efforts to comply with the Paris Agreement are on the rise by countries and companies alike. The actions listed in the Net Zero Asset Owners Commitment provide examples of the sort of forward-thinking ideas investors can use to protect the long-term value of their investments. We have put the Fund in a strong position for a net zero future and strongly encourage others to do the same.”

The Framework is intended to provide a practical implementation guide, supporting investors in defining and delivering their own net zero investment strategy. While this process will always be heterogeneous and unique to each investor, the Framework helps inform these approaches based on best practice methodologies and metrics. An increasing number of investors are expected to use the Framework following its publication.

The four investor groups are, also, coming together to drive investor net zero commitments and global uptake of the Framework through the Paris Aligned Investment Initiative. Established by IIGCC at the request of European asset owner investors in August 2020, the initiative will now go global. This collaboration will increase the reach of the initiative and help address the urgency of supporting investors worldwide in driving a shift to ‘net zero investing’ across the sector as a whole.

The investor organisations involved are: Institutional Investors Group on Climate Change:IIGCC engaging with European investors, Ceres covering North America, the Asia Investor Group on Climate Change:AIGCC covering Asia and the Investor Group on Climate Change:IGCC, covering Australasia.

Bringing investors together, the Paris Aligned Investment Initiative will be the global forum to support asset owners and managers in setting and delivering on net zero targets. Activity will build on existing collaboration, in providing investors with a best practice standard and consistent approach to net zero alignment across the global investment sector. Work will, also, continue in expanding the focus of the Framework.

The urgency of addressing the climate crisis is increasingly understood and achieving net zero emissions is key to success. Momentum is increasingly clear, with nine of the world's 10 largest economies pledging to reach net zero emissions by mid-century. Investors have a vital contribution to make to this process but have lacked a standardised approach to convert intent into practical decisions and action. The Net Zero Investment Framework fills this gap.

The findings of real-world portfolio testing, using the Framework to assess the impacts of net zero alignment, across five investor funds collectively valued at $01.3 trillion, will, also, help strengthen the case for further uptake. The analysis, developed by Vivid Economics, shows net zero alignment is a no regrets choice with scope for investors to secure notable benefits over a business-as-usual approach to investment. This includes the opportunity for significant reductions in exposure to climate-related financial risks and helping ensure investors are best placed to benefit from opportunities that arise as decarbonisation of the global economy continues to gather pace.

IIGCC's Paris Aligned Investor Initiative has been working with investors since May 2019 with the goal of supporting and enabling investors to commit to and transition to net zero. The UN-convened Net-Zero Asset Owner Alliance is a group of asset owners working in this direction, and issuing interim target-setting milestones starting in 2025. Engagement is taking place between the two initiatives with a view to further aligning approaches to achieving net-zero investment portfolios. Discussions are on-going and detailed work is about to start.

Ms Laura Chappell, CEO, Brunel Pension Partnership, said, "We are proud to have worked with the IIGCC for some time and to have been involved in the development of the Net Zero Investment Framework. The depth of that partnership was reflected in the recent appointment of Faith Ward as IIGCC Chair. We are confident that the framework has been effectively designed, having participated in the portfolio testing process. As a result, we believe it will enable us to deliver on our climate ambitions, both in our own funds and in our determination to encourage broader change across the industry."

Ms Carina Akerstrom, CEO, Handelsbanken, "At the end of 2020 we committed to Net Zero Asset Managers which marked an important step in the work to align our portfolios with the Paris Agreement and contribute to a sustainable future. We are currently finalising our new climate targets and internal guidelines for company engagements, which will be based on the Net Zero Investment Framework. Working together with other investors as we develop tools and reporting will be key going forward in order to deliver in accordance with our commitment."

Ms Abbie Llewellyn-Waters, Fund Manager, the Head of Sustainable Investing, Jupiter Asset Management, "We are delighted to be able to draw on the insights and recommendations of the Net Zero Investment Framework to support the alignment of our portfolio with the temperature goal of the Paris Agreement, which is a key requirement for all our investments. The climate emergency is one of the most pressing systemic issues globally and this initiative supports actionable targets and clear reporting to help direct capital in support of a more sustainable future for all.”

|| The Humanion || COVID-19 Contributed to Starvation and Executions in North Korea: Human Rights Council Told ||

|| Wednesday: March 10: 2021 || á. Disturbing reports have emerged from North Korea, officially, known as, the Democratic People's Republic of Korea:DPRK, that people have starved or been executed because of COVID-19 restrictions, a leading rights expert said on Wednesday. Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, Mr Tomas Ojea Quintana, highlighted that deaths by starvation, linked to a drastic decline in trade and commerce, as well as, an increase in the number of children and elderly people forced to beg.

Severe containment measures had, also, led to a number of concerning consequences, that further isolated the country's people from the outside world, Mr Quintana said in a report to the Human Rights Council. Although, the country has no recorded cases of infection, the pandemic has worsened an already deteriorating economic situation in DPRK. "Almost, all humanitarian work has stopped as the country's authorities have been effectively isolating their people from social, political, economic and, eve, diplomatic engagements, including, with the United Nations, Mr Quintana told the Human Rights Council in Geneva.

He informed the Council that several cities had been locked down to prevent coronavirus transmission, while several individuals, who were caught breaking anti-epidemic prevention measures were reportedly executed in public. This included a man in his fifties, in December 2020, was allegedly involved in illicit trade with China, along with a money-changer, who was allegedly executed in Pyongyang the same month.

"Detainees in the country, who rely on family visits to access decent food and medical care were among the most vulnerable as families are currently unable to visit them because of COVID restrictions." Another clear result of pandemic movement limits was the arrival of only 229 escapees in South Korea last year.

More than four times that number fled to DPRK's southern neighbour in 2019, the Special Rapporteur said. He said that escapees had continued to be reportedly repatriated from China. "The paucity of information on the human rights situation in the country is worse than ever." Mr Quintana said in his report, before supporting the Council's previous calls for an investigation by the International Criminal Court:ICC into crimes against humanity in DPRK.

As in previous reports, the rights expert highlighted the damaging impact of international sanctions, imposed against the country's development of nuclear weapons, describing them as 'the most comprehensive and prohibitive regime of sanctions ever put in place'. He, also, pointed to repeated natural disasters and the deteriorating human rights situation for the country's people, who 'for decades have had to suffer or fear grave abuses from State institutions, that are supposed to protect them'.

Citing information from the World Health Organisation, Mr Quintana said that DPRK had tested 13,259 people for COVID-19 as of December 31, 2020. All the results were negative and the authorities had applied to join the UN-partnered COVAX equitable coronavirus vaccine distribution initiative and expected to receive 1,992,000 doses of the AstraZeneca:Oxford jabs in the first half of 2021.

Representatives from DPRK chose not to attend the session, to respond to the rights expert's report. Special Rapporteurs, part of the Special Procedures of the HRC, are neither paid for the work nor are they UN staff and they operate on a fully independent basis.

This Is the Body of Work, by Munayem Mayenin, That Has Brought Into Existence the Philosophy and Vision of Humanics

Mayenin worked and developed the very critique of capitalism and Marxism while at university in which he had envisioned the world's future in humanics for humanity to reach and achieve liberty and equality for all humanity, which capitalism has continually slaughtered and Marxism failed desperately, even, to understand, let alone, to know or show how to seek and achieve them. Some of these works were published in publications in the early 00s and the volume was published as a book in 2007. There are three other volumes of this planned work, yet to be published.

Humanics The Foundation: Volume One: Published: December 06: 2017: ISBN: 978-0-244-34575-4

This piece of work elaborated the philosophy of humanics and presented the idea of human enterprise and how it works to enable humanity to conduct the human economical endeavours in humanics.

Humanics The Humanicsonomics: Volume Two: Published: June 12: 2018: ISBN: 978-0-244-48334-0

This is the political economics or humanicsonomics of humanics in human enterprise. This volume presents the political economics of humanics and envisioned world's future as two distinct phases: pre-humanical or Kapitalawnomics phase in which capitalism is saved from pseudonomics and brought under the absolute and complete control and power of the rule of law so to make it serve the people at all times and not the rich and through this phase, humanity brings into existence the humanical Building-Block Foundational Human Rights and end capitalism's Poverty Paradigm, that causes all of the high-cruelties, high-brutalities and high-barbarities, that are inflicted on the vast number of humanity on this earth. Further to this, this work advances the system and mechanism of human enterprise and envisioned at the end of the development of Kapitalawnomics human societies will have developed enough to be able and equipped to try and seek to bring into existence humanical societies, that will begin to form a grid of humanical societies into a universal humanical civilisation on earth.

The Humanics Elleesium Declaration 2019: The Humanicsxian Manifesto: Published: April 06: 2019: ISBN: 978-0-244-76474-6

This short piece of work nano-summarised the entire body of Munayem Mayenin's works on humanics. This calls on the working humanity of the world to rise, organise and united under new and humanical political forces, parties and organisations to seek and try to bring about a humanical world movement to lead humanity to equality and liberty.

Humanics The Humanicovics: Volume Three: To Be Published Later This Year

This volume presents the political philosophy of humanics and the means to deliver that political philosophy by and through humanicovics, humanical direct form of democracy without party politics whereby each and every individual human being becomes his:her own High Representative and they all run their society's human affairs management together as individuals, working together as scientists and mathematicians without any political parties.

Alphansum Sovereign Necessarius: Published April 14: 2020: ISBN: 978-0-244-58241-8

Although, this large volume is of metaphysical work, it has brought the whole humanical universal view in a harmonious outlook, unifying all expressions, fields, areas and arenas of human existence and in this process this work envisioned the coming into existence the new branches of science, that has already been mentioned.

In his other major bodies of works, that are yet to be published Mayenin has worked on further in elaborating the psychology and social psychology of the zoohumanity, that capitalism and all the dehumanisations it has inflicted on humanity through its enforcement of inequality and the absence of liberty. These as yet unpublished works include: Psychology of Zoohuman, Humanical

Jurisprudence, Sociology of Evil, Economics of Squalors: The High-Cruelties High-Brutalities and High-Barbarities of Capitalism, Humanical Moral Science, Social Morality Or Good State, Humanical Civilisation: A Universal Grid of Humanical Societies and Colossus Complexus: Eternally Learning Humanity.

There can not be any sustainability until and unless we take the view that sustainability comes as philosophical, political philosophical, political economical, ethical, moral, sociological, educational, jurisprudential, socio-cultural and ecological and humanical spiritual so that we are able to create a sustainable 'architecture' of existence in a clean, green, circular and sustainable political economics, that underpins all forms and expressions of sustainability and when such an 'architecture' exists within the Larin Paraske Maxim or Oath: Do No Harm to Anyone or Anything: all things and all living forms must have equitable status in the sphere of all existence or all life on earth, with an emphasis on the Universana. Because humanity does not just exist on earth but it does so in the Sunnara, in the Home Bay of the Milky Way Galaxy in the vast expanse of the Universe, our home Universana. Dear Reader, we are on the path of humanics, please, tell the world and world humanity that humanics has arrived on earth from 'the without of human imagination', learning, questioning and thoughts, gained from the eternal walks of this human soul's eternal journey on the eternal path of eternal learning, with its humanical metaphysics, humanical philosophy as natural science, humanical psychology, humanical political philosophy, humanical political economics, humanical jurisprudence, humanical sociology, humanical moral science and humanical arealism. For capitalism has created global warming and climate change and wracked the earth with environmental degradations and pollutions in all spheres, where bio-diversity is getting lost at an alarming rate as the earth keeps on being heated up. Humanity is devastated by capitalism's poverty-paradigm, delivering all its high-cruelties, high-brutalities and high-barbarities. This is why it is paramount that that we speak up and out and try our hardest to inspire faith, hope, determination and resolution among all humanity of this world, women and men, that we shall not just accept this 'sentence of doom', that capitalism's mindless consumerism, infinite greed of infinite profiteering, decadent voguism and venomous voyeurism, orchestrated by the Distorteddia have brought us and, yet, that we can, we should, we ought, we must keep on trying: 'to seek to try: to do: to change: to make better the human condition' and we do so as one humanity, as women and men, working together as one, in unison with the same aim, same goal, same objective: to get all humanity to liberty, equality, fairness and justice in the rule of law in natural justice, with a purpose and meaning to our existence, where we all humanity, with our all-unity and all-diversity, exist as one humanity naturale on one Mother Earth, in one Sunnara, in one Home Bay Milky Way Galaxy in the one Universana with the humanical foundation of faith: humanity is an infinity unfolding itself, in which, we are all-for-one and one-for-all.
