In Infinity's Eternal Doors

A dot is all that I have of the way to go to find the infinite sphere
A dot is all that I have of the way to go to find a tubular form in What people call straight line that goes on and on coming back
A dot nano-scaping inwards nano-seismic building all the while

A dot mammoth-scaping outwards mammoth-seismic all the while
A dot and a line go on and on leaving the trails of invites to follow
To follow their footsteps to Infinity's eternal doors that are open all
Ways all-while while the Meanwhile Garden of the Universe goes

Blooming dot to dot line to line tubular or sphere goes summer rising
Autumn falling winter clasping building spring and times and spaces
Shapes and sizes visibly invisible invisibly visible the earth ee moon

This night with her dark lit windows where stars gaze at our lilies ee
Roses as we find means to go farther seeking what our senses can not Holding on at the dot-line we are at home in Infinity's eternal doors
